

A Puzzle

Dady wanted a brother,) always wanted a sis
But come how fate was against it.
We could have no such earthly bliss

Dad said when he was little, he had no one to fight
And he told his ma, one day,
He didnt think it was right

For other boys had brothers,
That fishing went with them And if the neighbor. Could have them all

Why not one come to him.

And his ma said that one little boy

Could have all the pie you know Where if there was a dozen
All strong out in a row.

No little boy could get any pie
Daddy said he quickly herd
And when his ma had ended
He never said a word

So I thought I would go to my ma
And tell her about my sis.
But she said two little Daughters
Would be wanting that, and this.

She would have to play with my bestest doll

Maby lick the paint on its face I would have to let her wear my prettiest ring

She would want my bonnet of lace

My little silk dress, wouldnt be silk at all

Ma said, if she had to buy two Just gingham, would do for twins you know

Where they played the whole day through

So I guess it two cant have any thing

That Dad and I can still play, Awhile togather ti'l I get big Or plan some other way.

So we made a little play house
And Daddy was my sis
Then I was Daddy's Brother
Now what do you think of this

And then we got to thinking.
It was just like this you see
I couldnt give up Daddy
And Daddy wanted me

So if I was Daddy's Brother
And Daddy was my sis
Just who would be, my Daddy
Can you unravel this.

A Home course in

Domestic Science

"Twenty Lessons in Domestic Science," by Marion Cole Fisher has recently been received by us for review.

This is a complete advanced course in domestic science and home economics boiled down to meet the requirements of the housewife and the student.

The entire course consists of twenty practical lessons one hundred pages filled with the most valuable information the housewife can possess heretofore taught only in domestic science schools.

Do you know the relative value of food, which fruits to use cooking, what purpose salads serve,
the correct use of condiments, about proper kitchen equipments about U. S. Government's bulletins, how to reduce the high cost of living, how to promote and protect your own and your families health, how to make housekeeping simpler and more economical and pleasant by utilizing modern science in the home.

This Book, we note, is priced at $2.00 per copy and from what we understand it contains a complete $100.00 college course, condensed, and it is practically FREE to every interested housewife.
